

Table of Contents

Our Collective Commitment: Ireland and Its Relationship with The European Court of Human Rights and The European Convention on Human Rights	1
Donal O'Donnell
Conflict Prevention or Conflict Resolution: What Role for The European Court of Human Rights?.....	5
Robert Spano
Ireland and The European Convention on Human Rights.....	10
Iseult O'Malley
Why The European Convention on Human Rights Still Matters.....	20
Síofra O'Leary
'What Has the ECHR Ever Done For Us?': The Particular and Specific Importance of the Convention in Protecting Rights Across a Democratic Europe.....	32
Colm O'Conneide
Human Rights in a Changing World	41
Roderic O'Gorman
The Mysteries of the Common Law.....	45
Peter Charleton and Liam Lochrin
Reflections on Continuing Judicial Learning	83
Bernard McCloskey
The Challenges of Judicial Education and Training: A Comparative Perspective.....	88
Estelle Cros and Saoirse Enright
Notes from Scotland.....	108
Stephen Woolman
'Adjudicating in the 21st Century': Recent Reform in the Methods of Drafting and Reasoning of Judgments from the Cour De Cassation in Light of Publications by the 'Cour De Cassation 2030' Commission.....	111
Bruno Cathala
Judgment Writing and Judgecraft: A View from the Supreme Court.....	117
Ben Stephens
Reforming How Administrative Judgments Are Written: 7 Years of Reflections.....	126
Gilles Pellissier	